

CUTTING BOARD

(Luna-X Lavin) bambu

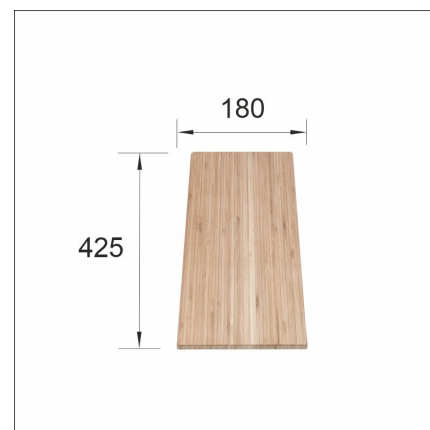

Product code 1111

Product description

Bamboo is an environmentally friendly material for cutting boards. The fast-growing reed plant is practically an inexhaustible raw material, which is perfectly suited as a cutting board material thanks to its antibacterial properties. Bamboo absorbs little moisture, is durable and long-lasting and does not dull the knife blade when preparing food. The cutting board is sized to sit securely in the sink. However, due to the natural material, each cutting board is unique and small differences in dimensions may occur compared to the given dimensions.
